Specialized Certificate in Leadership & Teamwork

Essential Skills for Professional Success

In today's job market, an increasing number of companies seek candidates with strong "soft skills" to complement their technical skills and expertise. Regardless of field, qualities such as solid communication skills, self-awareness, time management, and the ability to function on diverse, collaborative teams are highly sought-after. Developed with industry leaders and hiring managers and offered through UC San Diego Extension, this certificate in Leadership and Teamwork is designed to equip you with the skills to excel in any working environment.

Program Topics
- Understand your strengths, preferences, styles, and areas for development to improve your leadership capacity
- Discover the best approaches for team effectiveness and learn to improve team dynamics.
- Enhance your presentation skills by learning to develop effective messaging and tailor your delivery to your audience
- Learn key Project Management tools and techniques

Hands-on Campus Project
You will implement the skills learned in class by working collaboratively on teams to manage hands-on projects with direct campus impact. The culmination of the program will include a showcase of your projects to campus leaders and industry guests. Practice your newly acquired skills, while networking and building your resume.
