Completion of UC-San Diego Extension’s Project Management certificate gives students the opportunity to transfer twelve credits into UW-Platteville’s online Master of Science in Project Management program.

This PMI® globally-accredited program enables you to achieve success at the highest levels of management by preparing you to lead complex projects, cultivate relationships between project teams and customers, and manage the “triple constraint” of time, budget, and scope of project.

✓ Finish in as little as two years
✓ No GRE or GMAT
✓ No campus visits or residency
✓ Accredited by the Higher Learning Commission

$10,000 Scholarships

Funded in partnership with the National Science Foundation, multiple scholarships will be awarded annually to full-time graduate students pursuing their degree in one of these three areas: Engineering, Project Management, or Integrated Supply Chain Management. See criteria and application.
